

Journal position on electronic backup (if the journal is no longer published)

- Russian State Library (RSL)
- Central Scientific Medical Library (<https://rucml.ru/>)

The purpose of the backup is to prevent the loss of information in case of equipment, software failures, critical and crisis situations, etc.

Backup information shall be subject to the following main categories: - personal information (personal directories on file servers); - pdf of published articles; - information about literary references to article the DOI system.

All this information is publicly available in the system of the Russian citation index on the website of the Electronic library www.elibrary.ru